

CITY HEAT

LOGLINE:

In the sparkling city of broken dreams, someone gets their hands dirty. These people operate in murky corridors, their names are never spoken, faces never seen, deeds go unrevealed. This is their story.

RATING:

N/A

Complete Script and E-Package Available Upon Request

SYNOPSIS:

Loosely inspired by Steinbeck's Novel, "The Pearl," CITY HEAT is a searing examination of greed, its effect on the human condition, and the price people pay to have it all.

Steeped in Los Angeles' unsavory underbelly, this BOLD new series puts the viewer directly in cross-hairs as we follow the lives of Celebrities, Politicians, Judges, Moguls, Rap Stars and regular Joe's, living life solely in pursuit of their Pearl.

The show revolves around several richly textured CHARACTERS and various compelling STORYLINES; the most prominent includes the mystifying world of RUSSIAN STEAMING and the secretive counter culture of people known to insiders as HAZMATS.

Most successful people have one thing in common, they all want more. Often in pursuit of more, they find themselves way in over their heads. That's when specialists are called in, to contain and eliminate any situation that gets too big to manage.

These individuals operate unregulated, on the fringes of society, without ever leaving a carbon footprint. Their only responsibility is to remove unwanted toxic waste from the lives of the wealthy, or anyone that can afford the service. It's called HAZMATTING, an endearing term for making problems disappear. Nobody cares what happens to waste as long as it goes away.

They come from all walks of life and have any number of skills. These problem solvers rely on a global network of resources that includes the Russian Mob, corrupt Cops, Armenian Gangsters, Iranian and Mexican Mafia and L.A. Street gangs, there is no situation they can't handle.

The only place HOTTER than the streets of Los Angeles, is CITY HEAT, where dangerous men gather and their safety is guaranteed. It's where they STEAM their troubles away and wash off sins of the day.

CITY HEAT, where deals are made debts are paid and scores are settled.